Invesco Global Clean Energy ETF PBD – $14.12

Clean energy stocks have logged great performances this year and are poised to offer more returns next year. Global supplies of renewable electricity are estimated to expand 50% in the next five years. The global solar energy market is expected to witness a CAGR of 20.5% from 2019 to 2026. Solar, wind and hydropower projects are being launched at their fastest rate in four years, per IEA. The rising adoption of renewable energy will continue in 2020 too.
